

Bryan is from Tampa, Florida, and has a long career in writing, communications, marketing, and advocacy. In addition to leading the communications team for the Executive Office of the Governor, Bryan has also served as a national director for the Maccabee Task Force and has previously owned and managed a real estate company and a craft beverage tap room in Tampa. He is a lawyer, published author, and pilot.